WORLDWIDE CONNECTIONS —

With relationships built over three generations, CALBAG METALS is a well-known and trusted supply source to the largest scrap metal consumers in the world. Our international network enables us to consistently find the highest and best use for your metals.

The result?

Better prices for you over time.

TRUST — You can trust your metal will be accurately sorted, graded and weighed. We provide complete documentation of all material received including detailed weights and metal grades. You are also protected by our environmental monitoring programs more demanding than government regulations require.

Any recycler can haul away a box of scrap. The difference we offer is the experience and knowledge to do it better.
